

MUNICIPALITY OF SAN GIORGIO DELLA RICHINVELDA

At the roots of wine, where the vines throw out their first shoots they eagerly seek the water between the stones of the arid and stony ground. Young plants from whose fruit is drawn the precious nectar of Bacchus. Started during the First World War, now the Co-operative Nursery of Rauscedo produces the greatest quantity in the world of vine shoots, seedlings that, thanks to their genetic selection completed in that place, give birth to prestigious vineyards present throughout the nations.
